JoAnne:

Thank you for your email. DESC plans to present its witnesses in the following order:

Greg McGlohorn
 Rachel Elliott
 Rose Jackson

DESC has made preparations to conduct the hearing virtually and does not plan to appear in person at the hearing tomorrow. However, DESC has no objection if ORS wishes to appear in person.

Matt

Dear Parties of Record:

As you know the hearing in this Docket begins tomorrow on Thursday, November 4, 2021 at 10:00 a.m. Please advise of your witness order and if you are available, or want, to participate in person.

I have been asked to inquire of counsel if they and their respective witnesses are available and willing to appear in person – provided that they are in Columbia -- and potentially if you able to present witness testimony in a panel. Please do not incur any out of town travel if you are not located in Columbia-South Carolina area. If you and/or your witnesses are available to appear in person at the Commission Hearing room, please advise as the Commission would like to have the proceeding in-person and with witness panels if possible.

Please know that ORS attorney Alex Knowles is currently participating in an in-person hearing appearance at the Commission offices related to another docket proceeding which has continued from last week. This same procedural inquiry is shared with attorney Knowles in the Commission hearing room so that he can check with witness or arrange for others at ORS to check during the afternoon hearing break or otherwise due to the lateness of the hour.

It is hoped that you will excuse the lateness of this inquiry/request, but the reason for this inquiry/request is due to the unexpected need for continuation of another proceeding unrelated to Docket No. 2021-5-G or its Stipulation and limited availability next week due to certain time-sensitive limitations on other proceedings.

If you or your witnesses cannot change from virtual to in-person for whatever reason (even health/personal preferences), please know that is completely fine and understood. The Commission and staff are preferred to proceed virtually. Thank you for your attention and consideration of this inquiry and request.

With kind regards,

Jo Anne Wessinger Hill
